Big Sunday School Demonstration Exceeds Expectations

SPECIAL CARS ARE RUN

Washiugton, Canonsburg and Other County Towns Send Big Delegations

Headed by the Charleroi police department on horseback and the borough officials and speakers of the evening in automobiles, the gigantic parade of men's Adult Bible Classes of Washington county, made a most striking demonstration Friday evening, as a closing event of the 17th annual convention of the Washington County Sunday School Association. With ten bands, and carrying American and conquest flags, which represent the order, the marchers created great enthusiasm all along the route. In passing through the crowded districts, the bands played "Onward Christian Soldiers," and thousands of women and children joined in singing this inspiring hymn.

Forming on Washington avenue, it was easily 7:45 before the parade got started. In the process of formation the procession moved out Washington avenue and down Second street to Fallowfield avenue. Then when the parade started the line of march was on down Fallowfield avenue to Eighth street; thence to McKean avenue; up McKean avenue to Third street; up Third street to Washington avenue along Washington avenue to Seventh street, and down Seventh street to the big convention tent at the corner of Fallowfield avenue.

As nearly as possible the parade was organized by districts, each of which was headed by a band. The procession was so large that it extended for nearly ten squares. When the head was passing into the convention tent at the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Seventh street, the last of the marchers were just passing Seventh street up McKean avenue By actual count there were over 3,200 in line, and the aggregate probably reached 3,500. The effort to have 3,000 men and boys of Washington county Adult Bible Classes in line was more than realized.

Under the able direction of the chief marshal, Capt. J. K. Hein, and a corp of mounted aids, who were jauntily attired in blue coats, white caps and trousers and russet leggings the procession was formed and conducted along the line of march. Dale Jolliffe's Brigade acted as an escort to Company E of the Boys Brigade of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. The districts were represented by the Bible Classes of the various Sunday schools, the most of which carried a distinguishing banner. Some of the Sunday schools had special banners and pennants, and nearly all carried the American and conquest flags.

Eight special trolley cars came from Washington and four from Houston and Canonsburg. Monongahela and Donora were represented by big delegations, while from Phillipsburg, up the river, Roscoe, Speers and intermediate points along the river

Compliment To Director

Prof. I. T. Daniel Made Target for Snower of Roses at Convedtion Tent

Prof I. T. Daniel, director of the Charleroi Choral Society was tendered a pleasing compliment by the members of the society following the rendition of the "Hallelujah Chorus," at the Sunday School convention tent Friday night. As the last strains died away at a given signal he was made the target for myriads of beautiful red and pink roses thrown by members of the choir. The act took him utterly by surprise, and took the big audience by surprise. It was a token of appreciation of the work done by Prof Daniel as director of the chorus, who though hardly more than able to be out of bed, brought through swimmingly the concert given Wednesday and conducted chorus numbers rendered during the convention.

TAFT'S NOMINATION TO BE MADE TODAY

Newspaper Men and Politicians Concede Victory at Chicago for President--Expected to be Decided Upon by 5 O'clock

If the program of the Republican National convention at Chicago is to be carried out as announced, President Taft will probably be nominated this afternoon at about 5 o'clock. It has been demonstrated that the Taft people have the delegates sufficient to nominate, and with this showing there is no reason for a compromise candidate so long as one candidate has a clear majority.

Beaten on every side and in every contest, it is stated that the Roosevelt followers will not present the name of Col. Roosevelt as a candidate. If the program of the Roosevelt leaders is carried out it is announced that the Colonel's delegate will sit in their seats and refrain from voting at all. Newspaper talk from Chicago is to the effect that Col Roosevelt and his following will lie low until after the Democrats make their nomination, and then if there is still a dissatisfaction in the Republican and Democratic ranks a new party will be formed with Roosevelt as the candidate for president.

At the present writing it is probable that Taft will be nominated on the first ballot this afternoon, or if not then the first thing Monday morning. The chances, however, are that Taft will receive the nomination today.

President James of Sunday School District Expresses Appreciation

CONVENTION A SUCCESS

To the Public—The 17th Annual Convention of the Washington County Sabbath School association is now a thing of the past, and it will go down in history and upon the records of the association as one of the greatest Sunday School conventions Washington County has ever held. Charleroi has once more demonstrated the fact that its people never go after anything but what they are very sure of getting it, especially if it is only a matter of every one of its citizens putting their shoulders to the wheel to help move things along. Once more Charleroi and its people have proven that they never do things by halves here but by the whole, and they must think like Shakespeare, when he declared that anything worth doing is worth doing well.

The churches and the Sabbath schools of Charleroi and of Charleroi district No. 1, have also shown by their good work and who by their united effort have made this convention possible, that they are loyal to their principles, and that they are not afraid to take their stand for Jesus Christ and the cause He represents. I am reminded of the fact that in order to make any great public enterprise successful you must have the co-operation and the support of the public in order to accomplish the desired end, and from the fact that our convention has been such a great success in every sense of that word, from the Children's parade to the great Men's parade of last evening, which was a fitting climax, is sufficient proof of the support we received from the generous people of Charleroi.

We have therefor taken this menner of showing our appreciation, and in behalf of the Charleroi District officers I wish to express our appreciation and thanks to all who in any way, helped to make our convention such a great success. And especially do we wish to acknowledge the great help received from the Charleroi Mail, the Charleroi Lumber company, the Walton Lumber company, the West Penn Electric Light company, the Woodward Furniture and Music company, The Woolworth company, the Italian Band of Charleroi, and all other bands and the different committees, the Ladies Aid societies of all thee hurches and all who helped in any way this great work.

Charleroi District Officers,
W. S. James, President.

COMPLAIN OF POOR SERVICE

Telephone Trouble Experienced by Charleroi People it is Claimed

"RING-BACK" DIFFICULT

The Mail office has been besieged with complaints regarding the service of the Bell Telephone company. Since the installation of the new automotic service, a number of patrons say, they have experienced the most annoyance, which in many cases are particularly exasperating.

One of the greatest annoyances complained of is getting what is called a "ring-back." For instance when a subscriber is talking to a person at a distance, say Monongahela, and wants to ring off and talk to some one in the same place, much difficulty and delay is encountered. It frequently happens that when a patron wants to call up half a dozen people in another town, and instead of making the change direct from the central of that place, he frequently has to start anew for each one and make individual calls back to his own central, after much delay and annoyance.

Another complaint is getting a call through to other towns. This seems to take an undue amount of delay and persistent calling and after connections are established more annoyance is experienced in cutting off communications in the midst of conversation. This and the difficulty of getting a "ring-back" seems to constitute the bulk of the complaints.

An annoyance that perhaps arouses the ire of patrons more than anything else is what some call "banging in their ears." A patron is busily engaged in conversation, when all at once he gets a Fourth of July racket that nearly punctures his ear drum. This with frequent ringings in one's ear, which are terribly nerve racking, renders the service very unsatisfactory at times.

So many patrons have urged the Mail to make a public complaint, that these specific annoyances are mentioned with the hope that the company, when it learns that the complaints are general, will make a special effort to correct them. Private complaints usually result in placing the blame on what individual operator may be concerned for the time being when the fault is general.

CHARLES THOMPSON NAMED FOR COMMISSION

Two prominent Monongahela valley men have been appointed by Governor J. K. Tener as members of the State commission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. These are Charles F. Thompson of Charleroi and Harry K. Bentley of Monongahela. In all there are 20 members of the commission. Mr. Thompson is one of Charleroi's most prominent citizens and business men, and his host of friends are glad to see him recognized by Governor Tener.

MARKET DEMAND GROWING

Curb Sale Proving More Popular Every Day it is Held

PATRONS NUMEROUS

That the popularity of the Charleroi curb market is growing by leaps and bounds was attested this morning, when on the third day of its institution Sixth street, the designated place, was made a busy center. Many more farmers and producers than on any previous day were on hands oright and early. They didn't have to waste any time either, but quickly sold out what they had to sell.

There were more patrons of the market this morning than in either last Tuesday or last Saturday. Considerable surpise was expressed by those not familiar with the workings of the curb market at the apparent success atending it. One man of the name of Leatheman brought in a load of produce for the first time this morning. He has been in the habit of peddling it. This morning he sold out within an hour and was very pleasantly surprised. All material on sale was disposed of by 10 o'clock.

Result of Convention to be Closer Union of Churches

REV. M'CAULEY SPEAKS

Afternoon Sunday School Session Important to Future of County Work

That a federation of all Protestant churches of Washington county will be formed in the not far distant future seems certain, as a result of action taken following an address of Rev. Hugh B. MacCauley, D. D. of Trenton, N. J., at the Sunday school convention tent Friday afternoon. Rev. MacCauley is general secretary of the eastern district of the Federated Council of the churches of Christ in America. His talk was along the lines of church federation, and he brought the matter forcibly to the attention of the Sunday School men and women present. A protracted discussion of the proposition to federate the Washington county churches followed.

The final result was that is was decided that Rev. Murray C. Reiter, president of the county association name a committee to arrange for a meeting to be held in Washing and to make preparations for a federation to be formed. Rev. G. McKee of Washington, was the chairman named. Other members of the committee are J. T. Askew, Dr. G. C. Shephard, Rev. Thomas Wood, of Washington, and another man representing the United Presbyterian church of Washington, whose name was not secured.

A new feature was inaugurated Friday afternoon in the awarding of a district banner for excellence in Sunday School work. Charleroi district got the banner. Rev. Reiter said that Canonsburg and other districts had been working hard for it but he would let Mrs. Mary L. Stewart the county field secretary break the news. Mrs. Stewart told upon what the banner was awarded—every point considered in the standard of excellence—and presented it to Mr. James. The latter was taken by surprise, not knowing any such thing was comin Finleyville was declared second, and Monongahela third in the contest Charleroi won another district award for the greatest increase in Sunday School membership.

The heavens wept during a part of the afternoon's session. So hard was the rain that it was impossible for the speakers to continue. Songs were sung until after the starm. As at previous sessions, Rev. Dysinger conducted the devotional service.

"Personal Evangelism" was the subject treated by Rev. W. E. McCullough, D. D, of Pittsburg. Rev. McCullough said that there is no more up-to-date subject than that of winning of individuals.

"The whole world, the whole glittering mass," he declared, "is not worth one soul. Man is incurably religious," and he dwelt upon methods of getting men to Christ.

One of the features was a pastor's and superintendent's conference, conducted by E. S. McClelland of Pittsburg. This meeting was an open

A REMARKABLE SHOW-DOWN

The mammoth parade of men and boys which marked the closing of the Washington County Sunday School Association convention in Charleroi, serves to call attention to what is known as the "men's religion forward movement" in this country. This parade, which numbered approximately 3,500 men and boys, constituted only a portion of the number enrolled in the county in what is known as the Adult Bible Classes, which is a uniform course of Bible study prepared for men in particular and adopted by nearly all of the Evangelical churches throughout the United States. The movement has been established for about five years, and is rapidly being extended throughout the country.

This movement is no doubt one of the factors that is working toward the rapidly changing civic conditions that is apparent at the present time. The effect of the Adult Bible Class work is to bring participants in the work to an added sense of individual responsibility, in existing conditons. This arouses the individual to action, and as apathy and indifference has been the great civic fault of the Aemerican people, the increased individual activity is beginnng to count. This is one of the results of the Adult Bible Class work, and the big parade here indicates the proportions the movement has adready reached.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Down in the Allegheny county court the other day Judge Marshall Brown sentenced Edward Reams, who had been convicted of aggravated assault and battery to pay the costs and serve four months in the county workhouse. Harry Clark of Pleasant Valley, the prosecutor, charged Reams with aggravated assault and battery. He alleged Reams stabbed him twice. When Reams was brought before Judge Brown for sentence, Clark accused the defendant of having shot a man in Johnstown. Reams confessed to this and also to cutting a man in Belle Vernon.

When Charles Fichter, a witness was asked if Reams was under the influence of liquor, he answered:

"Well, I would say he had half a can on." The Court looked puzzled for a moment.

"What do you mean by that?" Judge Brown asked.

"Well he was pretty full," the witness replied.

"How much does it take to get half a can on?" Judge Brown queried.

"Well, some men have larger capacities than others," Fichter replied. "I should say that a person who drank half an eighth of beer—a small keg—would have half a can on."

"A full keg would be a full can on" the Judge said.

"Yes, I guess it would," the witness answered.

The remark caused much merriment among the jurors and the spectators.

When Dale Jolliffe, the playgrounds director, took little Ben Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Frye, down to the swimming pool in the Turn Verein building for the first time with a squad of boys to bathe, little Ben exclaimed:

"Oh, what a big bath tub."

He was given his bathing clothes and told to don them.

"What for?" he exclaimed.

"To go in bathing," said Dale."

"Why," said Ben, "at home I never have anything on when I take a bath."

DEPARTMENTAL CONFERENCES FORM FEATURE

Friday afternoon was a busy time in Sunday School convention affairs, four meetings being held at one time. The principal meeting was at the big tent, lasting all afternoon. Another of the meetings was at Christ Lutheran church where elementary and departmental work was under discussion, another at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, where a boys' congress was conducted and another still at the First Presbyterian church, where a girls' council was held.

The elementary meeting was conducted by Miss Frances Cooper of Monongahela, the county elementary superintendent. Miss Alice Paul of Washington gave a rest exercise and story for beginners, Miss Katherine McGough of Monongahela a junior class drill. Miss Florence Stewart, of Washington told a mission story with curios and an illustrated sand table talk was given by Mrs. J. F. Berthel of Washington. Soprano solos were rendered by Miss Edith Crill and Mrs. I. T. Daniel. Departmental conferences followed the elementary discussions and the following program was carried out: Cradle roll, Mrs. E. E. Van Gordon, Monongahela, presiding, beginners department, Miss Mary Robb, Washington, presiding and Mrs. G. H. Thomas of Monessen, leader; primary department, Miss Mary Hammond, of Monongahela, presiding and Mrs. M. J. Baldwin of Philadelphia, leader; junior department, Miss Mabel Donaldson, Buffalo, presiding and Miss Rose M. Russell, Wilkinsburg leader.

What was described by Rev. W. B. Smiley of McKeesport, a noted man in church circles of America as the best meeting of the kind he ever attended was the boys' congress conducted by Rev. G. G. Kerr, of Canonsburg at the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. The regular program was followed out with addresses being given as follows:

"Boys," Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, Philadelphia; "Safe and Sane Athletics," Fred Landefeld, Monongahela; "Social Work Among Boys," George Kunkelman, Monongahela; "Organization in the Teen Age," Rev. M. M. Albeck, Monongahela; "Bible Study for Boys," Lloyd O. Hart, Washington; "Evangelism," E. E. Bach, socialogical department superintendent Ellsworth Collenes company. A general conference was conducted by Rev. G. G. Kerr.

Miss Minnie Landefeld of Monongahela presided at the Girls' council, held at the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Harvey Saylor of Roscoe discussed "Organization," Miss Helen Holmes of Claysville, "Training for Service," and Miss Mary Burton, of Roscoe, and Mrs. M. Lenore Sutman of Monongahela, "Some Things Girls' Classes are Doing."

MANY SENIORS TO TAKE EXAMS

The faculty of the Normal school at California has announced that 151 seniors had been recommended for the state board examinations, 89 middler juniors and 82 middlers. The senior class was composed of 161 students which means that ten were not recommended for the examinations. The faculty feels that the 151 recommended will pass the state board without any trouble. It is expected that all examinations will be ended today.

NOMINALY IN JAIL; WORKING IN FACTORY

By the terms of an unusual parole granted this week Thomas Welch, who is serving 60 days' sentence in jail at Washington will work during the day at the Tyler Tube and Pipe company and spend his nights at jail, going to and fro in the morning and evenings without any delay. The money earned by Welch will be paid over to the district attorney by Charles Statman, superintendent of the Tyler Tube mill, who is to act as probation officer for Welch and the district attorney will turn over the money to Welch's mother. Welch is one of the young men who raided the Owl's sideboard some time ago taking a quantity of whisky. He was paroled but fell by the wayside and hence the unusual terms of the parole granted by the court.

OBITUARY

Hester Frye Parsons.

Hester Frye Parsons died at her home, 329 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa., Saturday, June 15, 1912, of pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the residence, Monday, June 17 at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. E. N. Duty of the First Christian church of Charleroi. Interment was private in the Monongahela cemetery. She was born in Belle Vernon, Pa., February 18, 1844 and was at the time of her death, 68 years, 3 months and 26 days old. She was the only daughter of Abraham P. and Rebecca Frye.

At the age of 8 years she moved with her parents to the farm now known as the Redd farm, on which the southern part of Charleroi stands and lived in the Frye Homestead which is located at the corner of First street and Washington avenue. Here her girlhood days were spent. She acquired her early education in the public schools and later was graduated from the old California, Pa., Academy, which institution has since grown into the South Western State Normal School.

After the completion of the course at California she lived at home with her parents, her devotion to them and to her two brothers being truly exceptional.

In her youth she was active in the social life of her community, her cheery presence being always in demand where youth was congregated on all pleasant occasions. Among her accomplishments as a young women was her exquisite needlework. She was also expert in outdoor recreations such as rowing, skating and riding. She was a great reader and student of current events, an interesting conversationalist and an earnest worker in the church.

While on a visit at the home of a very near friend Miss Belle Garrow at Pittsburg she met Benjamin L. Parsons, of Wellsburg, W. Va., who was at that time assistant manager of the Knox Nurseries at the present site of Knoxville, Pittsburg.

Their acquaintance grew to friendship and after a courtship of several months culminated in their wedding in the Christian church at Belle Vernon, Pa., February 26, 1867. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. L. P. Streator who had baptized her in the same church. In order that they might take a boat to Pittsburg on their wedding journey to Wellsburg, W. V., the wedding took place at 7 o'clock in the morning. They afterwards went to housekeping at South Side, Pittsburg, where they remained until the spring of 1873, when her parents died and she removed with her husband and two children to the homestead farm and has since that time been a resident of Fallowfield township and Charleroi.

To Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were born eleven children, eight daughters and three sons, all of whom, except the youngest son, William, who died in infancy, survive her. Besides her children, six of whom are married, her husband and 12 grandchildren are left to mourn her loss. While they are called upon to meet this untimely bereavement they sorrow not as those who have no hope, for of her it can truly be said:

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, yea from henceforth, they rest from their labors and their works do follow them."

Throughout her life she set and maintained a shining example of purity of speech and action such as is rarely found. Her devotion to her family was without alloy, while her thoughtfullness and cheery disposition won for her many friends in every community in which she resided. She retained great interest in church matters thoughout her life, and was truly well prepared to go when her summons came from the great byond. Her sincerity, her charity her thought for the comfort and welfare of others all bear eloquent testimony of the life she lived and though she has gone to the reward of peace and rest she had so well earned her work still lives and will continue to be an influence for good among those with whom she came in contact.

Among many incidents of her regard for those in distress are her request to have such flowers as might be offered at her funeral to be forwarded to the hospitals of the community to cheer the sick and lighten their burdens of suffering, which wish was complied with by her family. While she lay in her casket little foreign children of the neighborhood came to take a last look at her, saying she had often got up from the table to give them roses which they asked for from the bushes on her lawn.

CHILDREN'S KIDNEYS

No Charleroi Mother Should Neglect the Little One's Health.

Oftentimes weak kidneys cause great annoyance and embarrassment to children. Inability to control the kidney secretions, at night or while at play, is attributed to carelessne and too frequently the child is punished. Parents having children troubled with kidney weakness would do well to treat the kidneys with a tested and proven kidney remedy. If there is pain in the back, discolored urine, irregular urination, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, begin giving Doan's Kidney Pills at once. This remedy has been used in Kidney troubles for over 75 years—it has cured and has been recommended by thousands. Proof in a Charleroi citizen's statement.

Mrs. Robert Coulter, 207 Prospect Avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago my son contracted the measles and on recovering, I noticed that his kidneys were very weak. He had no control over the passage ff the kidney secretions and this was especially annoying at night. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised in the local papers and was finally induced to procure a supply at Piper Bros., Drug Store. I had my son use them according to direction and before long he was greatly benefitted. He is still using Doan's Kidney Pills and I am certain that a complete cure will soon be effected."

PUBLICITY PAGE FOR CHARLEROI

A representative of the Pittsburg Dispatch is here compiling a page of publicity for Charleroi which will be illustrated and contain a "live wire" write up on the resources and advantages offered here for the manufacturer and home-seekers. News matter of this kind going out in such a wide circulated paper as the Dispatch will go a long ways in boosting and keeping the "Magic City" before the eyes of the public. If the town continues to prosper and extend we have got to advertise and make known the fact that we want new people, more concerns and have one of the most delightful communities in the Monongahela valley in which to land. The fact that Charleroi is located in the heart of the Pittsburg district and can locate a factory literally over a coal mine, next door to the raw material markets on a river navagable almost the year around and best railroad services, churches, homes, schools, means that the town will continue to thrive and grow and the interest shown in the Dispatch proposition only goes to show that our business men are alive to what we have and are working together for a greater Charleroi.

NORTH BUFFALO LEADS COUNTY

One of the features noted during the Sunday School convention which closed its sessions Friday was the fact of Washington county's high standing in its teacher training class work. The leader in the whole county is a North Buffalo class. This class taught by Rev. H. L. Hood has an average of 100 per cent. It has received all the seals for its work except one, and when it gets this will be ready for the international seal. Rev. Hood acts as president of the class and Miss Vida McCalmont, secretary. It has 11 members.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

A most interesting feature at the Palace Theatre this week was an exposition of how an American moving picture company takes photographs for moving pictures in Egypt. This was the Kalem company, where the troupe of actors and actresses posed for a moving picture out in the desert with Arabs and their desert homes for subjects and background. Some of the troupe, dressed as native with Arabs, men, women and children regular nomads of the desert as supernumeries. The leading feminine role is taken by Miss Gene Gautier, a noted Kalem "moovie" actress, who as an Arabian maiden acts the part perfectly. The part not shown in the real production of the pictures is where the company fixes up with the natives for their services, and how the manager has to appease an insistent crowd, each of whom had a hand out for "bucksheesh." Some strong protoplays as usual, in addition to the Weekly Pathe Bulletin, which furnishes a delightful array of travelogues, were presented. Among the noted dramas full of heart interest were "The Bandit's Child," "The Angel of the Stranded Troupe," "The Belle of New Orleans," and "Yellow Bird."

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a three days' engagement of the Shady Grove orchestra at the Coyle Theatre in addition to the regular picture service, a most delightful repertoire was presented at this popular house. Two motion picture films were particularly strong in dramatic interest. These were "The Midnight Marriage" in two reels, and "The Price of Peace." Other strong features were "The Half Breed's Way," "The Tramp's Gratitude," "Ireland and Israel," "The Green Eyed Monster," "Stage Struck Mamie," "The Breakdown" and "Babies Three." Rider Haggard's great story "Jess", is dramatized and presented in three reels and is scheduled for Saturday. This tells the story of a South African romance, where sentiment and tragedy play a leading part. Some stirring scenes and adventures are pictured in this film, which are tragic as well as dramatic and sensational. Manager Coyle has also booked for Monday a Bison film of two reels. This is "The Outcast," which is posed for by the famous "101 Ranch" wild west company. This like all the Bison reels is a thriller, and full of stirring action.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

A welcome feature at the Star Theatre this week was the "Animated Weekly," which shows the leading events throughout the civilized world. This is in reality a travelogue picture, which takes the spectator direct to the scene of an event or incident which has attracted world-wide attention. Other strong photoplays of the week were "A Tenderfoot's Revenge," "Lonesome Miss Wiggs," "Zanette's Marriage" "Miss Matthews Dressmaker," "The Spirit of '76," "In the Tide," "A Breach of Promise," and "Rollicking Red's Big Lark." A realistic newspaper story was "The Cub Reporter's Big Scoop." For a Saturday attraction Manager Cowan has booked a thrilling dramatization of one or America's greatest classics.

and from the interior came big delegations. The Belle Vernon military company, such as belong to the Bible classes, and a colored cadet corp in uniform from Canonsburg were also in line. All the Charleroi Sunday schools in the district who are interested were also out in force, and made a fine showing.

As they marched the various schools or classes sang hymns or gave vent to war cries, in unison, like college yells, to distinguish their identity. The big crowd filed into the convention tent, which had been held empty for their arrival, and amid cheers and music, created a most inspiring sight. It was one of the most wonderful parades ever shown in Charleroi, and the largest gathering of men Bible students that ever paraded in the county.

CARSON TAKES HANLY'S PLACE

Prominent Brooklyn Man Addretses Immense Audience

The biggest religious meeting of the Seventeenth Annual Sunday Schol Asociation, which closed its two days' session here Friday evening was held at the convention tent at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue following the great men's parade. The immense auditorium was crowded with men, and even women managed to get in. It is estimated that there were between 2,000 and 3,000 persons seated and standing to hear Dr. John F. Carson of Brooklyn, N. Y., former moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly make his address.

Concluding the parade the men marched into the tent, with one of the bands at one end playing hymns and marches. Rev. Murray C. Reiter, president of the county association, presided at the meeting. The first number was the rendition of "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's Messiah, by the Charleroi Choral Society under direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel. This number was finely rendered. Warren Kinder sang a tenor solo that was roundly applauded, his accompanist being Mrs. G. G. Kerr, of Canonsburg a noted musician. Rev. Reiter explained that ex-Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, had disappointed the Washington County Sabbath School Association by cancelling his engagement, with reasons that did not seem satisfastory to the association. "However," he stated, "if anyone wants an apology after our speaker tonight makes his address, let him come around." Nobody came after Dr. Carson finished speaking.

Dr. Carson's talk was along religious lines, and a good subject might be: "The Need of the Bible." He said that there is too much conventionalism in religion. If there is enthusiasm in politica: or in any other line of endeavor, there should be so much more enthusiasm in religion. "More feeling and less semblance of dignity,' he said is needed. "The enthusiast succeeds in any calling in life. The man who is on fire for a cause in which he believes is going to accomplish that which he goes after."

There were two significan. movements of today, Dr. Carson stated. They are the new movement of men toward the church and the movement of church men to the Sunday School. Forty-three per cent of the church people today are men and boys.

"Your church is before your lodge," said Dr. Carson. "The church is the most potent force in America. Take your colleges, name them, and you find that every on, with a single exception that I know of were founded by the church. The one exception, Girard college, was founded by an infidel, but it is now under religious control, by order of the Supreme court. Infidels have money but you don't hear of any Payne Colleges or Ingersol University.

"Your freedom is Christian. Leckey the historian though not a Christian himself paid the compliment to Christian people that 'Liberty came to Europe in a little boat with a little man whose name was Paul.' The only place where men are on absolute equality is the church.

"It is nothing short of a crime that the Bible has been excluded from the public schools. We want more and not less of the Bible in public life, in the home, in the Sunday School, in the churches. We want more preaching and less talking. Give us the Bible, and let it predominate in the home life, and political life and the saloon with all its wretchedness and woe and those things which are used for the destruction of men, will be swept away. It is impossible to have morals without religion and impossible to have religion without the Bible. Enthone the Bible in the legislative halls of America and this country will be the most loved, the most honored and the greatest country in all history."

Miss Edith Crill rendered with beautiful effect a soprano solo at the conclusion of Dr. Carson's talk. Then Prof Scanlon was introduced. His address was necessarily brief, but he gave some good points. The address was for temperance. He declared that the liquor traffic was bad always and everywhere. "Reforms worth while are not born in a day," he said. His address had something to do with methods of getting rid of the traffic.

Adjournment of the convention was taken with the singing of the Doxology, which terminated the greatest and most successful Sunday school convention in the history of Washington county.

ONE THIRD OF A CENTURY

F. W. WOOLWORTH CO

Hold a Great Sale in Their 617 Stores

In celebration of Thirty-three and one-third years of successful business enterprise, the 617 stores of F. W. Woolworth Co., situated in all of the principal cities of the United State and Canada, are to hold a record breaking Sale during week of Jun 24th to 29th inclusive. This is to be known as a "One-Third of a Century Sale" and during this week this firm purposes to offer to their friends and customers an array of special values in every department that will completely eclipse all previous efforts.

The business of this company was established by Mr. F. W. Woolworth in Utica, N. Y., just "One-third of a Century" ago. He began with a few hundred dollars worth of morchandise starting an exclusive 5c store in the old Arcade building, the first store of its kind ever opened. His next store was opened at Lancaster, Pa., and a line of 10c goods was add and it was here that the popular 5c and 10c business was first established. Later, the well known firms of S. H. Knox & Co., F. M. Kirby & Co., C. S. Woolworth & Co., E. P. Charlton & Co., and W. H. More & Son were established in the same business.

These firms always maintained a friendly relation to each other, their proprietors being intimate personal friends. It was but natural that eventually the interests of these firms should be merged together, as was done last March, the new firm taking the name of "F. W. Woolworth Co."

During all these years, this firm has faithfully followed the original plan of adhering strictly to the popular prices of 5c and 10c. During recent years, while the prices of nearly all commodities have been constantly advancing, the variety and value of merchandise offered by the Woolworth stores has been constantly increasing. This has been made possible by the enormous purchasing power of this firm. Every new stores opened meant increased purchasing power, and this resulted in better values for the public.

Manufacturers who find it necessary to quickly turn their overproduction of stock into ready cash, find in this firm with its unlimited purchasing power, an opportunity to dispose of extraordinary quantities of merchandise. This explains some of the values that will be offered during this Sale.

You will do well to carefully watch the windows each day to see some of the Special Values offered during the week of the Sale, and in addition to items advertised in the windows there will be placed on the counters a large variety of other bargains of which no previous announcement will be made.

No such gigantic sale has ever before been attempted by any mercantile organization, and it is the purpose of this firm to make this sale fittingly celebrate the auspicious event which it commemorates.

They wish to invite their patrons and the public generally to visit their store during the week of this unusual sale that they may secure some of the exception. bargains that will be offered.

parliament, in which questions were asked and answered concerning Sunday School work, pastors and superintendents. That a superintendent should be a progressive leader was determined through an answer to one of the questions. If not progressive he should be "fired." If any session backs the unprogressive superintendent, it should be "fired" too.

The committee on resolutions consisting of Rev. C. D. Fulton of Canonsburg, Charles Weintge, of Pigeon Creek and Rev. J. A. Craig of Bentleyville made their report at the afternoon session. In these resolutions, which were adopted as read the various persons who had assisted in the preparations for the convention, the chorus choir and its director, Prof I. T. Daniel, the county press which reported the convention and particularly the Charleroi Mail, the Canonsburg Notes and Pittsburg Dispatch each of which had members of their staff present then, the officers of the county and district association for the leadership, were thanked.

Washiugton, Canonsburg and Other County Towns Send Big Delegations

Headed by the Charleroi police department on horseback and the borough officials and speakers of the evening in automobiles, the gigantic parade of men's Adult Bible Classes of Washington county, made a most striking demonstration Friday evening, as a closing event of the 17th annual convention of the Washington County Sunday School Association. With ten bands, and carrying American and conquest flags, which represent the order, the marchers created great enthusiasm all along the route. In passing through the crowded districts, the bands played "Onward Christian Soldiers," and thousands of women and children joined in singing this inspiring hymn.

Forming on Washington avenue, it was easily 7:45 before the parade got started. In the process of formation the procession moved out Washington avenue and down Second street to Fallowfield avenue. Then when the parade started the line of march was on down Fallowfield avenue to Eighth street; thence to McKean avenue; up McKean avenue to Third street; up Third street to Washington avenue along Washington avenue to Seventh street, and down Seventh street to the big convention tent at the corner of Fallowfield avenue.

As nearly as possible the parade was organized by districts, each of which was headed by a band. The procession was so large that it extended for nearly ten squares. When the head was passing into the convention tent at the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Seventh street, the last of the marchers were just passing Seventh street up McKean avenue By actual count there were over 3,200 in line, and the aggregate probably reached 3,500. The effort to have 3,000 men and boys of Washington county Adult Bible Classes in line was more than realized.

Under the able direction of the chief marshal, Capt. J. K. Hein, and a corp of mounted aids, who were jauntily attired in blue coats, white caps and trousers and russet leggings the procession was formed and conducted along the line of march. Dale Jolliffe's Brigade acted as an escort to Company E of the Boys Brigade of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. The districts were represented by the Bible Classes of the various Sunday schools, the most of which carried a distinguishing banner. Some of the Sunday schools had special banners and pennants, and nearly all carried the American and conquest flags.

Eight special trolley cars came from Washington and four from Houston and Canonsburg. Monongahela and Donora were represented by big delegations, while from Phillipsburg, up the river, Roscoe, Speers and intermediate points along the river

Prof. I. T. Daniel Made Target for Shower of Roses at Convention Tent

Prof I. T. Daniel, director of the Charleroi Choral Society was tendered a pleasing compliment by the members of the society following the rendition of the "Hallelujah Chorus," at the Sunday School convention tent Friday night. As the last strains died away at a given signal he was made the target for myriads of beautiful red and pink roses thrown by members of the choir. The act took him utterly by surprise, and took the big audience by surprise. It was a token of appreciation of the work done by Prof Daniel as director of the chorus, who though hardly more than able to be out of bed, brought through swimmingly the concert given Wednesday and conducted chorus numbers rendered during the convention.

Newspaper Men and Politicians Concede Victory at Chicago for President--Expected to be Decided Upon by 5 O'clock

If the program of the Republican National convention at Chicago is to be carried out as announced, President Taft will probably be nominated this afternoon at about 5 o'clock. It [illegible] people have the delegates sufficient to nominate, and with this showing there is no reason for a compromise candidate so long as one candidate has a clear majority.

Beaten on every side and in every contest, it is stated that the Roosevelt followers will not present the name of Col. Roosevelt as a candidate. If the program of the Roosevelt leaders is carried out it is announced that the Colonel's delegates will sit in their seats and refrain from voting at all. Newspaper talk from Chicago is to the effect that Col Roosevelt and his following will lie low until after the Democrats [illegible] there is still a dissatisfaction in the Republican and Democratic ranks a new party will be formed with Roosevelt as the candidate for president.

At the present writing it is probable that Taft will be nominated on the first ballot this afternoon, or if not then the first thing Monday morning. The chances, however, are that Taft will receive the nomination today.

President James of Sunday School District Expresses Appreciation

CONVENTION A SUCCESS

To the Public—The 17th Annual Convention of the Washington County Sabbath School association is now a thing of the past, and it will go down in history and upon the records of the association as one of the greatest Sunday School conventions Washington County has ever held. Charleroi has once more demonstrated the fact that its people never go after anything but what they are very sure of getting it, especially if it is only a matter of every one of its citizens putting their shoulders to the wheel to help move things along. Once more Charleroi and its people have proven that they never do things by halves here but by the whole, and they must think like Shakespeare, when he declared that anything worth doing is worth doing well.

The churches and the Sabbath schools of Charleroi and of Charleroi district No. 1, have also shown by their good work and who by their united effort have made this convention possible, that they are loyal to their principles, and that they are not afraid to take their stand for Jesus Christ and the cause He represents. I am reminded of the fact that in order to make any great public enterprise successful you must have the co-operation and the support of the public in order to accomplish the desired end, and from the fact that our convention has been such a great success in every sense of that word, from the Children's parade to the great Men's parade of last evening, which was a fitting climax, is sufficient proof of the support we received from the generous people of Charleroi.

We have therefor taken this manner of showing our appreciation, and in behalf of the Charleroi District officers I wish to express our appreciation and thanks to all who in any way, helped to make our convention such a great success. And especially do we wish to acknowledge the great help received from the Charleroi Mail, the Charleroi Lumber company, the Walton Lumber company, the West Penn Electric Light company, the Woodward Furniture and Music company, The Woolworth company, the Italian Band of Charleroi, and all other bands and the different committees, the Ladies Aid societies of all the churches and all who helped in any way this great work.

Charleroi District Officers,
W. S. James, President.

COMPLAIN OF POOR SERVICE

"RING-BACK" DIFFICULT

The Mail office has been besieged with complaints regarding the service of the Bell Telephone company. Since the installation of the new automotic service, a number of patrons say, they have experienced the most annoyance, which in many cases are particularly exasperating.

One of the greatest annoyances complained of is getting what is called a "ring-back." For instance when a subscriber is talking to a person at a distance, say Monongahela, and wants to ring off and talk to some one in the same place, much difficulty and delay is encountered. It frequently happens that when a patron wants to call up half a dozen people in another town, and instead of making the change direct from the central of that place, he frequently has to start anew for each one and make individual calls back to his own central, after much delay and annoyance.

Another complaint is getting a call through to other towns. This seems to take an undue amount of delay and persistent calling and after connections are established more annoyance is experienced in cutting off communications in the midst of conversation. This and the difficulty of getting a "ring-back" seems to constitute the bulk of the complaints.

An annoyance that perhaps arouses the ire of patrons more than anything else is what some call "banging in their ears." A patron is busily engaged in conversation, when all at once he gets a Fourth of July racket that nearly punctures his ear drum. This with frequent ringings in one's ear, which are terribly nerve racking, renders the service very unsatisfactory at times.

So many patrons have urged the Mail to make a public complaint, that these specific annoyances are mentioned with the hope that the company, when it learns that the complaints are general, will make a special effort to correct them. Private complaints usually result in placing the blame on what individual operator may be concerned for the time being when the fault is general.

CHARLES THOMPSON NAMED FOR COMMISSION

Two prominent Monongahela valley men have been appointed by Governor J. K. Tener as members of the State commission to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. These are Charles F. Thompson of Charleroi and Harry K. Bentley of Monongahela. In all there are 20 members of the commission. Mr. Thompson is one of Charleroi's most prominent citizens and business men, and his host of friends are glad to see him recognized by Governor Tener.

MARKET DEMAND GROWING

Curb Sale Proving More Popular Every Day it is Held

PATRONS NUMEROUS

That the popularity of the Charleroi curb market is growing by leaps and bounds was attested this morning, when on the third day of its institution Sixth street, the designated place, was made a busy center. Many more farmers and producers than on any previous day were on hands bright and early. They didn't have to waste any time either, but quickly sold out what they had to sell.

There were more patrons of the market this morning than in either last Tuesday or last Saturday. Considerable surpise was expressed by those not familiar with the workings of the curb market at the apparent success atending it. One man by the name of Leatheman brought in a load of produce for the first time this morning. He has been in the habit of peddling it. This morning he sold out within an hour and was very pleasantly surprised. All material on sale was disposed of by 10 o'clock.

Result of Convention to Be Closer Union of Churches

Afternoon Sunday School Session Important to Future of County Work

That a federation of all Protestant churches of Washington county will be formed in the not far distant future seems certain, as a result of action taken following an address of Rev. Hugh B. MacCauley, D. D., of Trenton, N. J., at the Sunday school convention tent Friday afternoon. Rev. MacCauley is general secretary of the eastern district of the Federated Council of the churches of Christ in America. His talk was along the lines of church federation, and he brought the matter forcibly to the attention of the Sunday School men and women present. A protracted discussion of the proposition to federate the Washington county churches followed.

The final result was that is was decided that Rev. Murray C. Reiter, president of the county association name a committee to arrange for a meeting to be held in Washing and to make preparations for a f eration to be formed. Rev. G. McKee of Washington, was the ch man named. Other members of committee are J. T. Askew, Dr. G. C. Shephard, Rev. Thomas Wood, of Washington, and another man representing the United Presbyterian church of Washington, whose name was not secured.

A new feature was inaugurated Friday afternoon in the awarding of a district banner for excellence in Sunday School work. Charleroi district got the banner. Rev. Reiter said that Canonsburg and other districts had been working hard for it but he would let Mrs. Mary L. Stewart the county field secretary break the news. Mrs. Stewart told upon what the banner was awarded—every point considered in the standard of excellence—and presented it to Mr. James. The latter was taken by surprise, not knowing any such thing was comin Finleyville was declared second, a Monongahela third in the conte Charleroi won another district awa for the greatest increase in Sunda School membership.

The heavens wept during a part of the afternoon's session. So hard was the rain that it was impossible for the speakers to continue. Songs were sung until after the storm. As at previous sessions, Rev. Dysinger conducted the devotional service.

"Personal Evangelism" was the subject treated by Rev. W. E. McCullough, D. D, of Pittsburg. Rev. McCullough said that there is no more up-to-date subject than that of winning of individuals.

"The whole world, the whole glittering mass," he declared, "is not worth one soul. Man is incurably religious," and he dwelt upon methods of getting men to Christ.

One of the features was a pastor's and superintendent's conference, conducted by E. S. McClelland of Pittsburg. This meeting was an open

A REMARKABLE SHOW-DOWN

The mammoth parade of men and boys which marked the closing of the Washington County Sunday School Association convention in Charleroi, serves to call attention to what is known as the "men's religion forward movement" in this country. This parade, which numbered approximately 3,500 men and boys, constituted only a portion of the number enrolled in the county in what is known as the Adult Bible Classes, which is a uniform course of Bible study prepared for men in particular and adopted by nearly all of the Evangelical churches throughout the United States. The movement has been established for about five years, and is rapidly being extended throughout the country.

This movement is no doubt one of the factors that is working toward the rapidly changing civic conditions that is apparent at the present time The effect of the Adult Bible Class work is to bring participants in the work to an added sense of individual responsibility, in existing conditons. This arouses the individual to action, and as apathy and indifference has been the great civic fault of the Aemerican people, the increased individual activity is beginning to count. This is one of the results of the Adult Bible Class work, and the big parade here indicates the proportions the movement has adready reached.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Down in the Allegheny county court the other day Judge Marshall Brown sentenced Edward Reams, who had been convicted of aggravated assault and battery to pay the costs and serve four months in the county workhouse Harry Clark of Pleasant Valley, the prosecutor, charged Reams with aggravated assault and battery He alleged Reams stabbed him twice. When Reams was brought before Judge Brown for sentence. Clark accused the defendant of having shot a man in Johnstown Reams confessed to this and also to cutting a man in Belle Vernon.

When Charles Fichter, a witness was asked if Reams was under the influence of liquor, he answered:

"Well, I would say he had half a can on." The Court looked puzzled for a moment.

"What do you mean by that?" Judge Brown asked.

"Well he was pretty full," the witness replied.

"How much does it take to get half a can on?" Judge Brown queried.

"Well, some men have larger capacities than others," Fichter replied. "I should say that a person who drank half an eighth of beer—a small keg—would have half a can on."

"A full keg would be a full can on" the Judge said.

"Yes, I guess it would," the witness answered

The remark caused much merriment among the jurors and the spectators.

When Dale Jolliffe, the playgrounds director, took little Ben Frye, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles O Frye, down to the swimming pool in the Turn Verein building for the first time with a squad of boys to bathe, little Ben exclaimed:

"Oh, what a big bath tub."

He was given his bathing clothes and told to don them

"What for?" he exclaimed

"To go in bathing," said Dale."

"Why," said Ben, "at home I never have anything on when I take a bath."

OBITUARY

Hester Frye Parsons.

Hester Frye Parsons died at her home, 329 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi, Pa., Saturday, June 15, 1912, of pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the residence, Monday, June 17 at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. E. N. Duty of the First Christian church of Charleroi. Interment was private in the Monongahela cemetery. She was born in Belle Vernon, Pa., February 18, 1844 and was at the time of her death, 68 years, 3 months and 26 days old She was the only daughter of Abraham P. and Rebecca Frye.

At the age of 8 years she moved with her parents to the farm now known as the Redd farm, on which the southern part of Charleroi stands and lived in the Frye Homestead which is located at the corner of First street and Washington avenue. Here her girlhood days were spent. She acquired her early education in the public schools and later was graduated from the old California, Pa., Academy, which institution has since grown into the South Western State Normal School.

After the completion of the course at California she lived at home with her parents, her devotion to them and to her two brothers being truly exceptional.

In her youth she was active in the social life of her community, her cheery presence being always in demand where youth was congregated on all pleasant occasions Among her accomplishments as a young women was her exquisite needlework. She was also expert in outdoor recreations such as rowing, skating and riding. She was a great reader and student of current events, an interesting conversationalist and an earnest worker in the church.

While on a visit at the home of a very near friend Miss Belle Garrow at Pittsburg she met Benjamin L. Parsons, of Wellsburg, W. Va., who was at that time assistant manager of the Knox Nurseries at the present site of Knoxville, Pittsburg

Their acquaintance grew to friendship and after a courtship of several months culminated in their wedding in the Christian church at Belle Vernon, Pa., February 26, 1867 The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. L. P Streator who had baptized her in the same church In order that they might take a boat to Pittsburg on their wedding journey to Wellsburg. W. V, the wedding took place at 7 o'clock in the morning. They afterwards went to housekeeping at South Side, Pittsburg, where they remained until the spring of 1873, when her parents died and she removed with her husband and two children to the homestead farm and has since that time been a resident of Fallowfield township and Charleroi.

To Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were born eleven children, eight daughters and three sons, all of whom, except the youngest son, William, who died in infancy, survive her. Besides her children, six of whom are married, her husband and 12 grandchildren are left to mourn her loss While they are called upon to meet this untimely bereavement they sorrow not as those who have no hope, for of her it can truly be said:

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord yea from henceforth they rest from their labors and their works do follow them"

Throughout her life she set and maintained a shining example of purity of speech and action such as is rarely found. Her devotion to her family was without alloy, while her thoughtfullness and cheery disposi- [illegible] every community in which she resided She retained great interest in church matters thoughout her life, and was truly well prepared to go when her summons came from the great byond. Her sincerity, her charity her thought for the comfort and welfare of others all bear eloquent testimony of the life she lived and though she has gone to the reward of peace and rest she had so well earned her work still lives and will continue to be an influence for good among those with whom she came in contact.

Among many incidents of her regard for those in distress are her request to have such flowers as might be offered at her funeral to be forwarded to the hospitals of the community to cheer the sick and lighten their burdens of suffering, which wish was complied with by her family. While she lay in her casket little foreign children of the neighborhood came to take a last look at her, saying she had often got up from the table to give them roses which they asked for from the bushes on her lawn.

CHILDREN'S KIDNEYS

No Charleroi Mother Should Neglect the Little One's Health.

Oftentimes weak kidneys cause great annoyance and embarrassment to children Inability to control the kidney secretions, at night or while at play, is attributed to carelessness and too frequently the child is punished. Parents having children troubled with kidney weakness would do well to treat the kidneys with a tested and proven kidney remedy. If there is pain in the back, discolored urine, irregular urination, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, begin giving Doan's Kidney Pills at once. This remedy has been used in Kidney troubles for over 75 years—it has cured and has been recommended by thousands. Proof in a Charleroi citizen's statement.

Mrs. Robert Coulter, 207 Prospect Avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "Some years ago my son contracted the measles and on recovering, I noticed that his kidneys were very weak. He had no control over the passage ff the kidney secretions and this was especially annoying at night. I had often seen Doan's Kidney Pills highly advertised in the local papers and was finally induced to procure a supply at Piper Bros., Drug Store. I had my son use them according to direction and before long he was greatly benefitted. He is still using Doan's Kidney Pills and I am certain that a complete cure will soon be effected."

PUBLICITY PAGE FOR CHARLEROI

A representative of the Pittsburg Dispatch is here compiling a page of publicity for Charleroi which will be illustrated and contain a "live wire" write up on the resources and advantages offered here for the manufacturer and home-seekers. News matter of this kind going out in such a wide circulated paper as the Dispatch will go a long ways in boosting and keeping the "Magic City" before the eyes of the public. If the town continues to prosper and extend we have got to advertise and make known the fact that we want new people, more concerns and have one of the most delightful communities in the Monongahela valley in which to land. The fact that Charleroi is located in the heart of the Pittsburg district and can locate a factory literally over a coal mine, next door to the raw material markets on a river navagable almost the year around and best railroad services, churches, homes, schools, means that the town will continue to thrive and grow and the interest shown in the Dispatch proposition only goes to show that our business men are alive to what we have and are working together for a greater Charleroi.

NORTH BUFFALO LEADS COUNTY

One of the features noted during the Sunday School convention which closed its sessions Friday was the fact of Washington county's high standing in its teacher training class work. The leader in the whole county is a North Buffalo class. This class taught by Rev. H. L. Hood has an average of 100 per cent. It has received all the seals for its work except one, and when it gets this will be ready for the international seal. Rev. Hood acts as president of the class and Miss Vida McCalmont, secretary. It has 11 members.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

A most interesting feature at the Palace Theatre this week was an exposition of how an American moving picture company takes photographs for moving pictures in Egypt. This was the Kalem company, where the troupe of actors and actresses posed for a moving picture out in the desert with Arabs and their desert homes for subjects and background. Some of the troupe, dressed as native with Arabs, men, women and children regular nomads of the desert as superernumeries. The leading feminine role is taken by Miss Gene Gautier, a noted Kalem "moovie" actress, who as an Arabian maiden acts the part perfectly. The part not shown in the real production of the pictures is where the company fixes up with the natives for their services, and how the manager has to appease an insistent crowd, each of whom had a hand out for "buckseesh." Some strong protoplays as usual, in addition to the Weekly Pathe Bulletin, which furnishes a delightful array of travelogues, were presented. Among the noted dramas full of heart interest were "The Bandit's Child," "The Angel of the Stranded Troupe," "The Belle of New Orleans," and "Yellow Bird."

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a three days' engagement of the Shady Grove orchestra at the Coyle Theatre in addition to the regular picture service, a most delightful repertoire was presented at this popular house. Two motion picture films were particularly strong in dramatic interest. These were "The Midnight Marriage" in two reels, and "The Price of Peace." Other strong features were "The Half Breed's Way." "The Tramp's Gratitude," "Ireland and Israel," "The Green Eyed Monster," "Stage Struck Mamie," "The Breakdown" and "Babies Three." Rider Haggard's great story "Jess", is dramatized and presented in three reels and is scheduled for Saturday. This tells the story of a South African romance, where sentiment and tragedy play a leading part. Some stirring scenes and adventures are pictured in this film, which are tragic as well as dramatic and sensational. Manager Coyle has also booked for Monday a Bison film of two reels.

This is "The Outcast," which is posed for by the famous "101 Ranch" wild west company. This like all the Bison reels is a thriller, and full of stirring action.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

A welcome feature at the Star Theatre this week was the "Animated Weekly," which shows the leading events throughout the civilized world. This is in reality a travelogue picture, which takes the spectator direct to the scene of an event or incident which has attracted world-wide attention. Other strong photoplays of the week were "A Tenderfoot's Revenge," "Lonesome Miss Wiggs," "Zanette's Marriage" "Miss Matthews Dressmaker," "The Spirit of '76," "In the Tide," "A Breach of Promise," and "Rollicking Red's Big Lark." A realistic newspaper story was "The Cub Reporter's Big Scoop." For a Saturday attraction Manager Cowan has booked a thrilling dramatization of one or America's greatest classics.

CARSON TAKES HANLY'S PLACE

Prominent Brooklyn Man Addretses Immense Audience

The biggest religious meeting of the Seventeenth Annual Sunday Schol Asociation, which closed its two days' session here Friday evening was held at the convention tent at the corner of Seventh street and Fallowfield avenue following the great men's parade. The immense auditorium was crowded with men, and even women managed to get in. It is estimated that there were between 2,000 and 3,000 persons seated and standing to hear Dr. John F. Carson of Brooklyn, N. Y., former moderator of the Presbyterian Assembly make his address.

Concluding the parade the men marched into the tent, with one of the bands at one end playing hymns and marches. Rev. Murray C. Reiter, president of the county association, presided at the meeting. The first number was the rendition of "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's Messiah, by the Charleroi Choral Society under direction of Prof. I. T Daniel. This number was finely rendered. Warren Kinder sang a tenor solo that was roundly applauded, his accompanist being Mrs. G. G. Kerr, of Canonsburg a noted musician. Rev. Reiter explained that ex-Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, had disappointed the Washington County Sabbath School Association by cancelling his engagement, with reasons that did not seem satisfastory to the association. "However," he stated, "if anyone wants an apology after our speaker tonight makes his address let him come around." Nobody came after Dr. Carson finished speaking.

Dr Carson's talk was along religious lines, and a good subject might be: "The Need of the Bible." He said that there is too much conventionalism in religion. If there is enthusiasm in politics or in any other line of endeavor, there should be so much more enthusiasm in religion "More feeling and less semblance of dignity,' he said is needed. "The enthusiast succeeds in any calling in life. The man who is on fire for a cause in which he believes is going to accomplish that which he goes after."

There were two significant movements of today, Dr. Carson stated. They are the new movement of men toward the church and the movement of church men to the Sunday School. Forty-three per cent of the church people today are men and boys.

"Your church is before your lodge," said Dr. Carson. "The church is the most potent force in America. Take your colleges, name them, and you find that every on, with a single exception that I know of were founded by the church. The one exception, Girard college, was founded by an infidel, but it is now under religious control, by order of the Supreme court. Infidels have money but you don't hear of any Payne Colleges or Ingersol University.

"Your freedom is Christian. Leckey the historian though not a Christian himself paid the compliment to Christian people that 'Liberty came to Europe in a little boat with a little man whose name was Paul.' The only place where men are on absolute equality is the church.

"It is nothing short of a crime that the Bible has been excluded from the public schools. We want more and not less of the Bible in public life, in the home, in the Sunday School, in the churches. We want more preaching and less talking. Give us the Bible, and let it predominate in the home life, and political life and the saloon with all its wretchedness and woe and those things which are used for the destruction of men, will be swept away. It is impossible to have morals without religion and impossible to have religion without the Bible. Enthone the Bible in the legislative halls of America and this country will be the most loved, the most honored and the greatest country in all history."

Miss Edith Orth rendered with beautiful effect a soprano solo at the conclusion of Dr. Carson's talk. Then Prof Scanlon was introduced. His address was necessarily brief, but he gave some good points. The address was for temperance. He declared that the liquor traffic was bad always and everywhere. "Reforms worth while are not born in a day," he said. His address had something to do with methods of getting rid of the traffic.

Adjournment of the convention was taken with the singing of the Doxology, which terminated the greatest and most successful Sunday school convention in the history of Washington county.

ONE THIRD OF A CENTURY

F. W. WOOLWORTH CO Hold a Great Sale in Their 617 Stores

In celebration of Thirty-three and one-third years of successful business enterprise, the 617 stores of F. W. Woolworth Co., situated in all of the principal cities of the United State and Canada, are to hold a record breaking Sale during week of June 24th to 29th inclusive. This is to be known as a "One-Third of a Century Sale" and during this week this firm purposes to offer to their friends and customers an array of special values in every department that will completely eclipse all previous efforts.

The business of this company was established by Mr. F. W. Woolworth in Utica, N. Y., just "One-third of a Century" ago. He began with a few hundred dollars worth of merchandise starting an exclusive 5c store in the old Arcade building, the first store of its kind ever opened. His next store was opened at Lancaster, Pa., and a line of 10c goods was added and it was here that the popular 5c and 10c business was first established. Later, the well known firms of S. H. Knox & Co., F. M. Kirby & Co., C. S. Woolworth & Co., E. P. Charlton & Co., and W. H. More & Son were established in the same business.

These firms always maintained a friendly relation to each other, their proprietors being intimate personal friends. It was but natural that eventually the interests of these firms should be merged together, as was done last March, the new firm taking the name of "F. W. Woolworth Co."

During all these years, this firm has faithfully followed the original plan of adhering strictly to the popular prices of 5c and 10c. During recent years, while the prices of nearly all commodities have been constantly advancing, the variety and value of merchandise offered by the Woolworth stores has been constantly increasing. This has been made possible by the enormous purchasing power of this firm. Every new stores opened meant increased purchasing power, and this resulted in better values for the public.

Manufacturers who find it necessary to quickly turn their overproduction of stock into ready cash, find in this firm with its unlimited purchasing power, an opportunity to dispose of extraordinary quantities of merchandise. This explains some of the values that will be offered during this Sale.

You will do well to carefully watch the windows each day to see some of the Special Values offered during the week of the Sale, and in addition to items advertised in the windows there will be placed on the counters a large variety of other bargains of which no previous announcement will be made.

No such gigantic sale has ever before been attempted by any mercantile organization, and it is the purpose of this firm to make this Sale worthily celebrate the auspicious event which it commemorates.

They wish to invite their patrons and the public generally to visit their store during the week of this unusual sale that they may secure some of the exceptional bargains that will be offered.

parliament, in which questions were asked and answered concerning Sunday School work, pastors and superintendents. That a superintendent should be a progressive leader was determined through an answer to one of the questions. If not progressive he should be "fired." If any session backs the unprogressive superintendent, it should be "fired" too.

The committee on resolutions consisting of Rev. C. D. Fulton of Canonsburg, Charles Weintge, of Pigeon Creek and Rev. J. A. Craig of Bentleyville made their report at the afternoon session. In these resolutions, which were adopted as read the various persons who had assisted in the preparations for the convention, the chorus choir and its director, Prof I. T. Daniel, the county press which reported the convention and particularly the Charleroi Mail, the Canonsburg Notes and Pittsburg Dispatch each of which had members of their staff present then, the officers of the county and district association for the leadership, were thanked.

YOUNG LAWYER ADMITTED TO BAR

Two young men were admitted to the practice of law at the Washington county bar this week and sworn in by Prothonotary A. V. Lewis. They were Woodward Miller Taylor, son of Judge J. F. Taylor with whom he was registered as a law student, and Alvin E. Donnan, who was registered as a law student with his father John W. Donnan.

and from the interior came big delegations. The Belle Vernon military company, such as belong to the Bible classes, and a colored cadet corp in uniform from Canonsburg were also in line. All the Charleroi Sunday schools in the district who are interested were also out in force, and made a fine showing.

As they marched the various schools or classes sang hymns or gave vent to war cries, in unison, like college yells, to distinguish their identity. The big crowd filed into the convention tent, which had been held empty for their arrival, and amid cheers and music, created a most inspiring sight. It was one of the most wonderful parades ever shown in Charleroi, and the largest gathering of men Bible students that ever paraded in the county.
